COLLECTIONS OF BULBS.

For the convenience of his customers in giving orders for Bulbs, J. Carter has arranged the following Assortments, which he trusts will be found serviceable, as they comprise all the leading varieties.

I. HARDY BULBS FOR THE BORDERS, &c.

Assortments.
The following Assortments comprising the finest varieties separate, may be planted in the open borders from September to November, or even later. Anemones and Ranunculuses also from March till May, and Gladioli in February and March.

Those marked with a * are equally proper for pots. The following Assortments being intended for large gardens, one-fourth of each number may be had at the same rate as the whole.

SUNDRY BULBS.

Explanations. Those Bulbs without any designation, as Amaryllis lutea, are quite hardy and proper for the open borders. Those with a * are for the greenhouse or frame. Those with ** are for the stove or greenhouse, but most proper for the former. Those marked with a † are adapted for the greenhouse, frame or open borders. In very severe winters a little protection is desirable. Some of the Amaryllis are now called Hippeastrum, as Amaryllis aulica, or Hippeastrum aulicum. Of the Bulbs marked †, and particularly of such as are not expensive, as Lilias, Sparaxis, Tritonias, &c. &c. J. C. would recommend at least 3 Bulbs of a kind, for a pot or clump, as a single bulb is insufficient for effect.

SEEDS FOR AUTUMN AND PRESENT SOWING.

J. Carter takes this opportunity of submitting the following List of SEEDS for present or Autumn sowing. They will be forwarded, Carriage-free, at the prices affixed. By sowing Perennials and Greenhouse Seeds at this season, a whole year is gained, and the Autumn-sown Annuals flower much earlier than when sown in Spring. The Perennials will come in very useful for bedding and filling up vacancies in Spring. The Assortments comprise the finest varieties. 50, 25, or 12 may be had at the same rate as per 100.
